CROSS ODER, REPORT

LONDON, Feb. 2 (INS)—The London Evening News today quoted the Voelkischer Beobachter as reporting the Red army has crossed the Oder river "just east of Berlin."

Reds Closing In on Berlin

By JAMES F. KING

LONDON, Feb. 2 (AP)—Russian forces have made one attempt to storm across the Oder in their onslaught toward Berlin, a German broadcast said today, and other Berlin reports indicated Soviet patrols might already have crossed. The German high command clamped a blackout on news from the sector as one military commentator told of the attempted crossing in the area of Kustrin, 40 miles east of Berlin. Berlin radio accounts said Marshal Gregory Zhukov had brought up strong forces along the Oder on both sides of Frankfurt, and that assault to reduce the

Clear 30 Miles on Rhine

By JAMES M. LONG

PARIS, Feb. 2 (AP)—American and French troops cleared 30 miles of the left bank of the Rhine below Strasbourg today and laid a heavy artillery barrage on the Neufbrisach railroad escape bridge from less than a mile away. In the center of the western front, the American First and Third Armies probed deeper into the thinly manned Siegfried line and advanced up to two miles in its fringes on the western slopes of the Eifel mountains opposite the late Ardennes bulge.

Half a dozen German hamlets were taken; more lines of dragon teeth tank barriers were passed; scores of pillboxes—many undented—were captured.

The passive German resistance in the center strengthened the suspicion that the enemy might be falling back to the Rhine, from 20 to 60 miles east of present battle lines in the center and north.

Continued thaws slowed somewhat the American First and Third Army onslaughts along a 40-mile section of the Siegfried line opposite the erased Ardennes bulge. Despite their apparent weakness in the line, the Germans still were moving troops eastward and Allied air power late yesterday banged at Rhine bridges and railroads to disrupt the flow toward the eastern front.

The Americans widened their stand inside Germany by capturing Laudenfeld, six miles east of St. Vith and a little more than seven from the heavily fortified rail center of Prum.

The U. S. Third Army advanced up to two miles inside Germany beyond the Our river below St. Vith, capturing Teckelscheid, Grosslangenfeld, Winterscheid and several other German hamlets west of Prum.

The First and 82d Divisions of the First Army resumed their probes of the West Wall to the north and found a few pillboxes manned. The First Division went through lines of dragon teeth barriers four miles east of Klinkelt. No Germans were found last night, but this morning mortar fire was encountered.

The 82d Division took tiny Neuhof at the southern edge of Underbreth, a town in the line itself. The capture was made in a quarter-mile advance just after daylight.

North of the 40-mile section of the Siegfried line under attack, a 37-mile string of the fortifications already had been captured. This part of the line extended from northwest of the Roer river town of Linlich to the Monschau sector southeast of Aachen.

At points opposite the Ardennes mountains, the Third Army had advanced four miles into Germany. Troops neared Belialf, six miles from Prum and three inside the Reich.

Fighting in Italy At New Low

ROME, Feb. 2 (AP)—Activity dwindled nearly to an all-time low along the entire Italian front today with only minor patrol actions reported by both the Fifth and Eighth armies.

CASUALTIES UP 35,392; U. S. TOTAL 737,342

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—United States combat casualties since Pearl Harbor neared the three-quarter million mark today, with disclosure Army losses have reached 650,420.

The Army's total, plus the latest Navy figure of 86,922, puts the overall combat casualty figure at 737,342, an increase of 39,392 over last week's report. The Army accounted for 33,469 of the rise.

Acting War Sec. Patterson said the Army's figure was based on compilations made at the War Department through Jan. 21 and reflected actual fighting through most of December. This would cover the first two weeks of the big German counter-offensive in the Ardennes.

U. S. Subs Sink 10 More Jap Ships

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—United States submarines have sunk 10 more enemy vessels in Far Eastern waters.

The Navy, announcing this today, said the toll included two medium cargo transports, two medium tankers, three small cargo vessels, a large transport, a medium transport and a small tanker.

fortress of Kustrin were under way.

The German communique, however, completely omitting any mention of the sector, said the Russians everywhere else except in East Prussia, had been checked after hard fighting, and Moscow dispatches said Zhukov had run into thick minefields and a hard shell of German armor along the 90-mile front threatening the German capital.

Declaring the capital could and would be defended, Hitler's newspaper said "German armed forces are in a position to build barriers which the enemy, who has crossed the Oder with very small forces only, cannot even threaten."

Both Moscow and Berlin reflected the belief that a critical phase of the Russian offensive was near.

The Moscow radio called upon the Germans to surrender and avert impending catastrophe.

Heavy fighting raged on a line from the area of Glogau, on the Oder 115 miles southwest of Berlin, to Kustrin, in the angle of the Oder and Warthe east and slightly north of Berlin.

There was no further report of the situation at Kustrin, where the Germans yesterday said the Russians drove into that highly fortified point and reached the Oder just to the northwest in a sector 30 to 40 miles from the capital.

The Germans declared that they had thrown the Russians out of Kustrin, and that thousands of German men, women and children were being rushed to the east to dig a great system of trenches to make Berlin a "bloody disappointment" for the Russians.

Moscow dispatches reported, however, that Zhukov was working to bring up stronger forces, was massing his infantry and storm guns behind his tank spearheads and that the "storming of the Oder is not too distant a prospect."

Fires raged in Berlin from an RAF night bombing, heightening the confusion of the city, and Russian planes raked the roads from

3-Prong Drive On Manila Bay

By Associated Press

A second unopposed American invasion of Luzon island sent three motorized Yank columns converging on Manila bay today, with still no sign of organized Japanese resistance.

The 11th Airborne Division made the latest landing Wednesday, 15 miles south of Manila bay, without firing a shot, it was intended only as armed reconnaissance but Maj. Gen. J. M. Swing turned the amphibious operation into a full scale invasion when no opposition developed.

The force pressed inland from the Batangas coast to cut off outflanked Japanese concentrations in the south and drive on the Cavite naval base, 32 miles to the northeast, and Manila.

Armored spearheads of the Sixth Army are 20 miles north of Manila. Sixth and Eighth units are rolling across the base of the Bataan peninsula toward a junction.

2—Boston American, Feb. 2

Superfort pilots from India reported they had destroyed the huge floating drydock at the Singapore naval base in one of the greatest mass B-29 attacks ever made. All bombers returned.

Phillipine-based bombers and fighters maintained 24-hour sweeps over Formosa.

On the northern Luzon island battlefronts a Japanese force was trapped in a road between two American columns and "completely destroyed."

American headquarters in China announced that the 14th Air Force base at Suichuan in Kwangsi Province has been destroyed and abandoned to the expanding Japanese offensive through southern China.

British amphibious troops moving closer to Rangoon and Singapore invaded Sagu Kyun, a small island off the West Burma coast.

EASTERN FRONT—The Reds appeared to be meeting stiffer resistance along the Oder river east of Berlin today, but they encircled Schneidemuhl to the northeast and, farther south, threatened Glogau. Berlin placed the Russians on the Oder near Kustrin, about 40 miles east of the Reich capital, but Moscow named Duhringhof as the farthest point of advance toward Berlin.

MRS. ROBERT C. STRONG, SON FRANCIS
Husband Liberated in Luzon Prison Raid by Rangers

MRS. THOMAS MELER, THOMAS, JR.
Rejoice at News of Nephew's Liberation

N.E. Kin Mingle Tears, Laughter

Prayers of thanksgiving for the safety of their loved ones were mingled with tears of joy and emotion today as more relatives of the 19 New Englanders learned that their kin were among the 513 war prisoners freed in the daring Ranger raid on a Japanese camp behind enemy lines on Luzon.

Among the latest to receive news of the rescue were the families of Lt. Col. Robert C. Strong, Jr., of Quincy st., Arlington, and W.O.O. Nathan H. Cleaves of Codman st., Portland.

Mrs. Strong said she was overjoyed at news of her husband's freedom. The former Josephine Maguire of Arlington, she lives in Arlington with their four sons, Robert, Francis and twins, George and James. She felt sure, she said, that her husband was alive, although she had received only six cards from him in two and one-half years.

An Annapolis graduate and a Navy man for 23 years, Lt. Col. Strong is a native of Raleigh, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan E. Cleaves of Portland revealed that their son had been home on furlough last in 1940 and went directly from Portland to duty in the Philippines. A Portland native, he has served in the Army for 14 years.

When Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Temple of Northumberland st., Pittsfield, learned that their son, Lt. John W. Temple, 26, was among the rescued, they said it was "almost too much to dare hope for."

"We had been hoping for the best, of course, but some months ago we received a report that John had been transferred to a camp in Japan, and we were afraid to count too much on his escape with the others," his mother said.

Although admitting he was over-coming with joy, the father of PFC Winthrop C. Pinkham of Portland ave., Dover, N. H., said he would have to stick at his job today at a shoe shop there.

"The news is great," Mr. Pinkham said, "but I just can't take time out to celebrate."

Mucci's Own Story Of Big Ranger Raid

By FRED HAMPSON

AT SIXTH RANGER CAMP NEAR CABANATUAN, Luzon, Jan. 31 (delayed) (AP)—Put Lt. Col. Henry Mucci's Sixth rangers with Rogers' rangers. Put 'em with Jeb Stua rt's cavalry. Put 'em with Allen's

Green Mountain boys. After what happened last night, that is where they belong.

They went 35 miles through the Japanese lines. They crossed a road teeming with Japanese traffic. They surrounded a prison stockade that was alive with guards. They did it in dead secrecy. Not a man was spotted.

They struck like Thor's hammer at 7 p. m. and at 7:03 p. m. they had killed every Jap in the fearsome Cabanatuan prison stockade. By 7:05 they had whisked the first lot of 513 prisoners, carrying a hundred stretchers, carrying a hundred stretchers pickaback across the road onto a field of retreat. Not many minutes later the Rangers were as gone as though they had never been there.

This shadowy jab, timed without a flaw and executed without a flicker of pause, paid off incredibly. It liberated the entire roster of prisoners, disorganized the enemy beyond possibility of pursuit, killed 73 Japs outside and probably that many more inside the buildings, and destroyed four tanks.

Fighting on the way back ran the number of Japanese dead up to 523.

Col. Mucci of Bridgeport, Ct., and Denver, Col., told today how they did it.

Filipinos furnished the news of and pinpointed the stockade. Early Jan. 29 Rangers slipped through the lines and began their march. They took only what weapons they could carry. On Jan. 30 they rendezvoused with a Filipino guerrilla band which was to assist them.

The road ran directly past the prison camp which contained a stockade circled with barbed wire, guard towers and machine guns. It also contained the prisoner huts plus several Japanese buildings for officers, enlisted men and transient troops. Other buildings contained tanks and vehicles.

Mucci put his forces on either side of the stockade to blockade the road during the action. He deployed a larger force of Rangers near the road farther south and a force of guerrillas farther north.

With these in position the rescue force crept from a river thicket onto a field making a direct approach to the prison just before 7 p. m. That was the darkest hour of the night.

A platoon led by Lt. John F. Murphy of Springfield, Mass., a former Notre Dame football player, crawled up the road to the southeast corner of the prison. Some of Murphy's men got within a few feet of the lookout tower.

Lt. William J. O'Connell of 34 Isabella st., Boston, Mass., commanded a squad covering the road in front of the prison and another which was to open the gate.

Other Rangers under Capt. James C. Fisher of Philadelphia, Capt. Robert W. Price of Seattle and Lt. Melville Schmidt of New Orleans completed encirclement of the prison.

First Lt. John Dove of Hollywood, Cal., an Alamo scout, was near the gate to speed prisoner traffic through the field to the rendezvous point.

Murphy quarterbacked the attack. The second bursts mowed down Japanese emerging wildly from the buildings.

Most Jap machine gunners were killed—some with bayonets—before they could fire a shot.

A bazooka ripped through the tank house and destroyed four tanks.

Other Rangers sprang into buildings where most of the prisoners were just starting to go

Two Bay State Men Fired First Shots in Luzon Raid

How two Massachusetts men fired the first shots in the daring American Ranger raid on the notorious Cabanatuan prison camp in the rescue of more than 500 American prisoners was recounted today in an International News Service dispatch by Clark Lee.

In his account of the opening of the raid, Lee wrote:

"Disaster almost overtook the expedition at the last moment. Lt. Frank Murphy of Springfield, Mass., a Notre Dame football star of the class of 1935, and his platoon had crawled the last 100 yards in a ditch and rested their rifles on the outer barbed wire, aimed at the Jap guard barracks."

"He sent three of his sergeants ahead. They were crawling along when a Jap sensed movement or perhaps had spotted the dim figures and shouted 'Stop!'"

"The whole attack was in jeopardy for it was to begin at a signal from Murphy. The sergeants froze to the ground, expecting the Jap to give the alarm. He called to other guards and continued to call at intervals for the next 10 minutes, while the three remained motionless."

"At exactly 7:45 p. m., Murphy squeezed the trigger of his Garand, shooting into one of the guards' buildings. His men blasted the barracks with bazookas and automatic rifles while on the other side of the camp a platoon under Lt. William O'Connell of Isabella st., Boston, fired simultaneously."

"The three sergeants fired as one man at the Jap in the guard tower. Filled with Garand bullets, he tumbled 30 feet, head first."

"We helped him down," said a sergeant.

With the first shot, Sgt. Theodore R. Richardson of Dallas, Tex., rose from his hiding place in deep grass and ran to the main gate, a 7½-foot tall barrier of barbed wire and wooden cross pieces. He forced it open. The way to freedom for the prisoners was open.

A Jap from one of the buildings fired a shot which knocked Richardson's .45-caliber automatic out of his hand. The sergeant picked it up and raced on to join O'Connell's men, who were thoroughly riddling the Japs' barracks. One Jap, bewildered and shouting, ran out. Richardson cut him down with six bullets.

Behind Richardson, through the main gate, rushed men with wire cutters. They snipped the strands of the two inner fences and dashed to the prisoners' barracks.

Lt. Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael C. Murphy of Springfield, was graduated from Notre Dame in 1935 and played quarterback on the football team there for three years. He also studied at Boston University Law School.

He was inducted into the service in March, 1941, while employed by the U. S. Rubber Co. at Chicopee Falls and gained his commission at Ft. Benning, Ga. He was among the first American troops to land on Binagat, off Leyte, last Oct. 17.

He has three brothers, William, George and Fred, serving in the Army and a fourth, Edward, in the Navy. His wife, Ruth, is living in Springfield with their 6-month-old daughter, Margaret, whom he has never seen.

Lt. O'Connell, 33, is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth O'Connell of Isabella st., and was the first Massachusetts man to set foot on Philippine soil when the Americans returned last fall.

His Ranger platoon went ashore on Leyte three days before the full scale American invasion and has been in action almost continuously since.

A graduate of Charlestown high school, he was a clerk in a Boston wholesale house before entering the service in 1940. His brother, Sgt. David J. O'Connell, has been through seven major campaigns with Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., in the Mediterranean and European areas and another brother, Daniel, recently received a medical discharge from the Army.

Captives' Loathsome Diet

A BASE HOSPITAL ON LUZON, Feb. 2.—Although Fed Cross packages of food for them had arrived from the United States, prisoners of the Cabanatuan camp of the Japanese were forced to eat rats, cats, dogs, worms and frogs to keep from starving.

Four survivors of the dreadful "march of death" from Bataan told today of the loathsome diet they were forced to use to keep from starving on the skimpy rations offered by their Japanese captors.

"We had no meat to satisfy our craving for protein," said Capt. Caryl L. Picotte of Oakland, Cal., one of the survivors. "The dried fish issued to us by the Japanese was full of maggots."

"We'd eat anything that would give us protein. That included whatever we could lay our hands on—rats, cats, dogs, worms, leeches and even the frogs we could catch hopping around the latrines."

He said this was forced on them even though Red Cross packages containing food and other comforts had arrived for them. The packages were withheld.

"The Japs took the best of the food grown on prison farms. They had a covey of about 200 ducks on which they feasted and they counted them each night to make sure none had disappeared," he said.

He said, however, that ingenious American prisoners trapped some of the ducks by laying trails of corn kernels into foxholes, where the hungry, waiting men would swoop on them and wring their necks silently.

When the Japs left the camp Jan. 7 the prisoners rounded up all the ducks and brewed kettles of soup so all could have a taste.

Plan for Big 3 To Split Reich

By JOHN A. PARRIS

LONDON, Feb. 2 (AP)—On the basis of reports indicating the possibility of early political and perhaps military disintegration of large sections of northern Germany,

MANY IN RACE FOR LENDING AGENCIES JOB

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—Big names in and out of government were mentioned today for the big job of running the government's lending agencies.

These were among those talked of for the post which the Senate voted overwhelmingly to keep out of the hands of Henry A. Wallace as prospective Secretary of Commerce.

Fred M. Vinson, economic stabilization director; Joseph P. Kennedy, former ambassador to London; Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board; and Henry J. Kaiser, shipbuilder who was active in the fight to give Wallace the lending as well as the commerce post.

Whoever President Roosevelt names will have to be confirmed by the Senate.

Into cold storage until March 1 went Wallace's nomination for Secretary of Commerce while the Senate sent to the House by a 74 to 12 vote a bill to clip from the department authority over the government's lending agencies.

Draft Bill Faces Senate Hurdles

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—With not so much as a comma changed, and with decisive House support behind it, the limited national service bill faced new troubles today in the Senate.

Passed last night by a 246 to 165 House vote, the legislation calls for induction, fine or imprisonment for men between 18 and 45 who leave essential jobs or refuse to take them contrary to the directions of their local draft boards.

Indications were the Senate would lose no time considering it. Its military committee was called together behind closed doors this morning to chart its course.

Archbishop to Install Bishop Ryan, Vermont

JAYDE PARK, Vt., Feb. 2 (AP)—The Most Rev. Richard J. Cushing, archbishop of Boston—who will be presiding prelate—and six other archbishops and bishops will attend the installation ceremonies for the Most Rev. Edward F. Ryan as fifth bishop of Burlington, next Wednesday.

Groundhog Sees Onion's Shadow; a Strong Hunch

One of the most prominent groundhogs in the business, Weasel-Face Willie by name, popped out of his hole in Middlesex Fells today, with an onion in his paws. He laid the onion on the snow, measured off six leap-frog paces, placed himself on the sunny side of the onion and squinted at it.

"I'll be hog-tied!" he exclaimed. "What's cooking, Willie?" asked a local partridge.

"There's going to be six more weeks of winter," moaned Willie. "I can see the onion's shadow. See it?"

Prime Minister Churchill will urge immediate approval at the Big Three meeting of plans for ruling the Reich.

This information came today from a reliable London source. It was emphasized this statement should not be interpreted to mean Germany as a whole would collapse in a matter of weeks, or that a quick surrender of Nazi die-hards could be expected.

Nevertheless, it was made clear a sense of real urgency has been lent to the Big Three session.

(Charles A. Smith, International News Service correspondent, in his London dispatch today said immediate German surrender, martial law for six months and then civil government under Allied control plus possible dissection of Germany into three separate states were prominent in London speculation on the outcome of the "Big Three" meeting.)

The London source said Churchill was operating on the basis of reports from inside Germany that much of the political machinery already had broken down in the northern areas and that the process of decay would be accelerated by war developments.

These reports came from sources which hitherto have insisted that the Gestapo grip was too powerful to allow a political breakup.

But there seemed every reason to believe large portions of the German army would fight on, even if the civil population went to pieces.

The reports reaching Churchill were understood to indicate the German military forces were planning to retreat if necessary to the south and fight in an organized way from hedgehog strongholds that would be geographically and, in part, industrially self-sufficient.

For a last-ditch stand the Germans have been reported establishing an elaborate resistance center covering 10,000 square miles in mountainous parts of Bavaria and Austria. It would be difficult to storm and would offer few good targets for bombing operations.

Inside this line, it was reported, is an even more elaborate stronghold covering more than 100 square miles and centered on Berchtesgaden, Hitler's hilltop retreat.

One Whitehall official asserted "anything might happen in Germany."

"Reports we have received," he said, "show the people have reached the very depths of despair."

There still was no official confirmation that the Big Three conference had begun, but most quarters were of the opinion Churchill, President Roosevelt and Premier Stalin already were discussing the future of Germany.

A German broadcast said the conference was being held "in a Rumanian port on the Black sea."

Vets May Solve Burial Mystery

Joseph H. Doherty, who until this week was listed in the town records of North Andover as officially buried Nov. 28 in the American Legion plot in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery there, called on Police Chief Alfred H. McKee today and officially denied it.

Meanwhile, the American Legion pallbearers who had carried to the grave what they believed was the body of Doherty, their comrade of World War I, were planning to hold a post meeting Monday night. They hope an exhumation may lead to identification of the man buried in Doherty's name.

The sequence began when the body of a man was found in the Merrimack river at Newburyport, Nov. 23. A "positive" identification was made by a man who had known Doherty. Doherty, in fact, had merely moved to Boston, where he was found this week by one of the pallbearers, Daniel Neal of Lawrence.

The man buried in North Andover was past middle-aged, five feet 10, with graying hair, partly bald. He wore a brown-striped suit, blue shirt and had only 10 cents in his pockets. He carried a watch which bore the maker's number: 338,380.

State to Dig Out Snowbound Farms

The recent heavy snows in the Berkshires have caught the farmers of Middlefield, Hampshire County, coming and going. Because of the snow-blocked highways they have been unable to replenish depleted grain supplies for their cows and they have an oversupply of milk on hand they are unable to get to market.

Today they appealed to Gov. Tobin for aid and the department of public works sent a large rotary plow to the isolated town ship.

Newton, Quincy Battle Fires

Multiple alarm fires drove 10 persons to ice-covered streets in their night clothing in Newton early today and swept a one-story business block in Matthew Smith sq., Quincy, causing damage estimated at more than $35,000.

The Newton blaze, caused by a defective chimney in a Carleton st. two-family wooden dwelling, was discovered through the cries of a 14-month-old baby who was choking in her crib from smoke.

As soon as apparatus reached the scene, Fire Chief John L. Keating sounded a second alarm. The baby, Carol, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wenstrom, second floor tenants, awakened her sister, Virginia, 17, who then aroused her parents and two other sisters, Eunice, 18, and Peggy, 14.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Ruby Mihalakos, who lives in the first floor, also smelled smoke and awakened her husband, Paul, and their children, Louis, 14, and Irene, 11. The two families fled to the street together.

In Quincy, fire which broke out in the basement of the McLellan store roared through the first floor and spread quickly to the adjoining store occupied by the H. P. Hood Co.

Top Priority

FT. WORTH, Feb. 2 (AP)—One of the oldest priorities held up a plane flight out of here today. A baby was among the passengers and its mother left its bottle at the municipal airport.

The pilot reported tersely: "Returning to Ft. Worth—hungry baby."

6 GOVERNORS HERE TO SEEK N. E. FUEL AID

As they gathered for an emergency conference at the Parker House today, the six New England governors received reports that the coal shortage throughout the area is growing more acute hourly and that kerosene and gasoline supplies are alarmingly low.

The situation in Boston was especially serious, Mayor Kerrigan disclosed in making public an urgent appeal he sent to Petroleum Administrator Ickes demanding immediate action.

At the same time, coal dealers reported that their reserve stocks were being used up rapidly.

Further complicating the situation was the latest embargo on all civilian freight movements to Eastern States ordered by the ODT. The embargo began at midnight and continues through midnight Tuesday.

The previous embargo, which ended last Monday, failed to break the jam of thousands of freight cars in the Buffalo, N. Y., area, many of them buried under 10 feet of snow.

Ohio Curtails Office Hours in Coal Crisis

CLEVELAND, Feb. 2 (AP)—As Ohio's coal crisis became more critical Gov. Frank J. Lausche today ordered all state offices closed three days, Saturday through Monday, and recommended county and municipal authorities to take similar action. The Governor also asked all Ohio schools to close Monday.

The Governor announced a committee representing business and industry meets Monday to develop a program to close taverns, retail stores, theaters and other amusement places in the State at least one day a week.

LST 749 Lost, Not 759, Navy Reports

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—The Navy announced today it was in error in reporting the loss yesterday of the tank landing ship LST 759. It was the LST 749 that was lost in operations in the Philippine area, the Navy said.

The 759, commanded by Lt. John A. Baybutt, U. S. Coast Guard, Washington, D. C., has not been lost. The Navy said it was not prepared yet to name the skipper of the lost LST 749. Normal complement on an LST is 64 men.

Cadet Nurses Urged to Enlist

By PAULINE WARREN

Heads of the Army, Navy, state, city and the medical and nursing professions impressed upon more than 700 senior cadet nurses, soon to graduate from 26 hospitals in Greater Boston, the critical need for their immediate enlistment in the armed forces, at a rally in the Copley Plaza last night.

Lt. Gov. Bradford told the young cadets the Commonwealth is proud that so many of them have already decided "to carry your profession where it is desperately needed—in the battlefields of this war."

He paid a touching tribute to Lt. Frances Slinger, Dorchester nurse and Boston City Hospital graduate, killed on the Western Front a few days after she had written an unforgettable letter on war nursing to the Stars and Stripes.

Classing her among immortals such as Florence Nightingale and Clara Barton, Lt. Gov. Bradford read her letter to the cadets while they listened with tear-filled eyes.

The letter read in part:

"We have learned a great deal about our American soldiers and the stuff they are made of . . . the courage and fortitude they have is sometimes awesome to behold. It is a privilege to receive the wounded and a great distinction to see them open their eyes and with that swell American grin say, 'Hi ya, babe.'"

Mayor Kerrigan reminded the cadets that Boston is the first city in the country to hold such a rally, and read a typical GI answer to Lt. Slinger's letter, written by a soldier fighting somewhere in Germany.

"Her letter was such as to bring a lump to a man's throat," it read. "But we men were not given the choice of working on the battlefield or the home front. We are here because we have to be."

"But, you, sister, are here because you felt you were needed. So . . . when we open our eyes to find one of you lovely ministering angels . . . we can't but be overcome by the very thought that you are doing it because you want to."

Dr. Frederick May Eliot, chairman of the State Senate and president of the American Unitarian Ass'n, gave an eloquent invocation after the cadets had entered to the strains of their own march, written especially for them, while the room was darkened and spotlights played on their red and gray uniforms.

Miss Mary O. Jenney, consultant of the U. S. Public Health Service, disclosed in her speech that due to the 76 per cent increase in student admissions to nursing schools since 1940, "the Nurse Cadet Corps prevented the collapse of civilian nursing service.

"But," she added, "since the Cadet Corps forms the pool from which military services draw, it is imperative that we meet our quota of 60,000 new admissions this year. Let history say of the corps: 'Not one of its members waited to be drafted.'"

Capt. Ruth C. M. Anderson, Army nurse recently returned from overseas, told the cadets: "I bring you a message from nurses overseas—they need your help desperately—they are waiting for you to come to their aid—they are waiting to greet you when you arrive 'over there.'"

Austen Lake, Boston American war correspondent, gave the cadets a graphic picture of the suffering endured by our GIs in Germany.

An even more somber note in the rally was introduced when announcement was made that Lt. Col. Ruth Taylor, chief of Army Nurse Corps, First Service Command, had to miss her speech at the rally due to a new influx of wounded at Camp Edwards.

Chaplain Edward J. Georgio of Lowell General Hospital, who lost a leg in the service, gave an exalting benediction to these young girls who may soon be facing all the dangers of war.

As he finished and heads were bowed, taps were played softly by the U. S. Coast Guard Port of Boston Band in the darkened room, with the only illumination shining on a gallantly flying Stars and Stripes.

Previously, 40 cadets who had been specially rehearsed by a dramatic teacher, Mrs. Virginia Miller, had given a choral rendering of the poem, "I Am a Nurse . . . I walk with him in his pain . . ."

The resolute faces of the young cadets as they left the hall indicated they understood the full implications of that poem but were nevertheless anxious to follow in the great traditions of their calling and were ready to "walk with pain . . ." wherever it must be met.

Hint Prosecution In Auburn Fire

AUBURN, Me., Feb. 2—Miss Blanche Tanguay, night nurse at the baby home operated by her sister, Mrs. Eva LaCoste, was called as a witness today to tell about her discovery of the fire which snuffed out the lives of 16 babies and a nurse.

County Atty. Aloysius S. Martin announced that he also had called as witnesses Mrs. LaCoste's son, Laurent, who rescued his younger brother, and Army Pvt. and Mrs. Rupert R. Sirois, parents of a 6-month-old daughter, Carmen, who perished in the tragic blaze. Mrs. Sirois is also a sister of Mrs. LaCoste.

Today's inquiry into Maine's worst disaster of its kind in years continued privately despite Gov. Horace A. Hildreth's demand for an open hearing.

Car Romeo Spurs New Guam Club

GUAM, Feb. 2 (AP) (Via Navy Radio)—The story of San Francisco's marrying conductor has reached the servicemen in this forward area.

They were touched, in fact, so deeply touched they've organized a "Down With Ding Dong Daddy Club."

Army Cpl. Kani Evans broadcast the story of the much-married Francis Van Wie of San Francisco over the radio here.

Immediately a limerick contest sprang up, complete with prizes.

Two Marine sergeants now report with smiling pride the formation of the new club. They maintain it's "downright unparliamentary of a guy to have eight or 11 wives when we haven't any out here—and his are white, too?"

Hulten's Cambridge Wife Fights to Stop His Hanging

Breaking her long silence for the first time, Mrs. Rita Hulten disclosed today she was fighting to save her husband, Pvt. Karl G. Hulten, Cambridge paratrooper, from the gallows, to which he was sentenced on a conviction of murder in London.

Appeals have been sent to Washington by the young wife and mother and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Signe Hulten of the Back Bay, for intervention by the State Department, and both Sen. David I. Walsh and Sen. Leverett Saltonstall have been asked to intercede in behalf of the 22-year-old paratrooper.

Pvt. Hulten and Mrs. Elizabeth M. Jones, 18, wife of a missing British soldier, were sentenced last week to be hanged after they were found guilty in London's Old Bailey court of murdering George Heath, London cab driver, Oct. 7.

Mrs. Hulten, who has been in seclusion with her two-year-old daughter since her husband's arrest, said that Sen. Charles J. Innes, Back Bay, had drawn up the official appeal which has been forwarded to Washington.

Both the State Department and the Office of the British Home Secretary are being asked to intervene in an effort to save the Cambridge soldier from the gallows.

"Regardless of the situation in which my husband is involved," Mrs. Hulten said today, "I am his wife and the mother of his child. Therefore, I am interested in doing what I can for him."

"I have written to him several times since he became involved in this trouble and he has written to me. I received one letter from him only a short time ago."

Her blonde, curly-haired daughter romped around the Cambridge home where the Hultens are staying as the young wife and mother explained her efforts to save her husband.

She said the two Massachusetts Senators, through the State Department, were seeking assistance of the British embassy in Washington in carrying her appeal and that of her mother-in-law to the office of the British home secretary.

The Senators have been asked to obtain all available information in possession of the State Department and the British embassy which might be helpful in their fight to save the soldier's life, she added.

"Whatever I can do, and whatever my mother-in-law can do, to help him out of this trouble, we will do," she said.

She refused to comment on the youthful "strip-tease" dancer, convicted with her husband of the London murder nor would she indicate in what manner she was obtaining her present support.

Under Army regulations her $80 monthly dependency allotment from her husband's pay has been halted.

She said she and her mother-in-law had another meeting scheduled today to discuss further plans for assisting Pvt. Hulten and added they would exhaust every possible means of help in their fight to save his life.

Throughout the discussion, Mrs. Hulten, the former Rita Pero of Cambridge, remained cool and unaffected, although there was no mistaking the seriousness of her determination to do everything possible to help Hulten.

Russia Sending Food to Finland

MOSCOW, Feb. 2 (AP)—Russia and Finland today signed an agreement, effective immediately, by which Finland will receive food in exchange for war materials.

Between now and June 1, the Russians will send to Finland 30,000 tons of grain, 1000 tons of sugar and 300 tons of sweets, it was announced. The Finns will send Russia raw materials such as nickel and cobalt and have agreed to repair Soviet warships.

Maine Village Back to World After 4-Day Burial in Snow

SOUTH PARIS, Me., Feb. 2—Buried in snow that in places drifted 40 feet high, and cut off without lights, gas and communication since Monday, the farming community of Stearns District, in the foothills of the Molluokett Mountains, was restored to contact with the outside world today.

The 75 members of 25 farming families remained in their homes and suffered no casualties, according to Deputy Sheriff Charles Hammond of Paris County. However, he said the farmers figured much of their livestock was lost. Barns and pigpens were so deep in snow not even roofs were showing. Efforts to dig them out were started today.

Stearns District is five miles from here, just off Route 26, main highway between Portland and Berlin, N. H.

To free the town, 500 students in Paris and South Paris high schools were let out of classes to aid highway workers. After the first State plow reached the community today, Salvation Army and Red Cross officials followed with hot soup, coffee and other food.

Deputy Sheriff Hammond said the storm was the worst since January, 1920.

The community's plight was discovered by Dr. A. C. Rausch-werger of West Paris when he sought to reach the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lauri Konkio to treat their 7-year-old daughter, Jeanette, who was seriously ill.

Co-eds Resent "Homeliest Girls" Remark by Actor

AP Wirephoto

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 2 (AP)—The David Bruce-Northwestern University coed verbal exchange drew comment today from Cynthia Bruce, wife of the screen actor.

"That was a broad statement my husband made, and very indiscreet for this household."

Bruce said Northwestern co-eds were a homely lot before breakfast on Sunday, an observation he picked up waiting on sorority house tables, while working his way through the school 10 years ago.

"It was indiscreet, you see," said Mrs. Bruce, "because I went to Northwestern myself, although a few years after David. But I might say he doesn't look so good himself before breakfast, Sunday or any other day."

She disclosed she had made a trip to the dime store "I bought a little mirror to put in front of his breakfast plate. He'll get the idea."

Bruce himself, after his first statement which brought violent repercussions from the campus, maintained silence.

Russia

Berlin jammed with traffic bound for the front.

The Russians now were inside Germany in Silesia, Brandenburg and Pomerania on a 375-mile front.

By Moscow account these were the distances of the Red army from these immediate objectives on the Berlin front:

Kustrin—About 11 miles, from the sector southwest of Duhringhof. This would be about 5 miles from Berlin and the nearest approach yet reported in Moscow dispatches.

Zielonig, in the Warthe-Order bend—Four to five miles, from the region west of Gleisen.

Sternberg, seven miles south of Zielonig—Seven to eight miles, from west of Legowo.

Furstenburg, on the Oder about 15 miles south of Frankfurt—About 20 miles, from the Griesel area.

Crossen, on the Oder 30 miles southeast of Frankfurt—Nine miles, from the Leitersdorf salient.

Moscow dispatches, however, said Soviet tanks had knifed between these hot points and won significant victories.

The spearheads, therefore, were considerably closer to Berlin than the 51 to 80 miles indicated by these positions.

400 U-Boats Set For New Drive

LONDON, Feb. 2 (AP)—Information received from neutral and underground sources indicates the Germans are ready to send 200 U-boats out into the sea lanes for a large scale attack on convoys en route to France and Russia, the Daily Telegraph said today.

Estimates have been made in Stockholm, the newspaper said, that the German navy has a total of 400 serviceable submarines and is building new ones at the rate of 20 monthly. A report from the Norwegian underground said many were based at Bergen and Trondheim.

Filene's Automatic Bargain Basement

$153.60—$241.80—$619.20

$309.60—$105.60—$285.60

—It was jingle, jangle, jingle as the cash register melodiously tinkled down in Filene's Basement's famous coat and suit section the other day.

$100 coats and suits, you say?—yes, $100, and more—all showpiece creations—samples from one of New York's foremost designers. Sounds like Millionaire Row, doesn't it? Just a few minutes after the doors opened click went the cash register, as wise Bostonians, who know their fashions, started to buy, and greenbacks literally started to fly all over the place. (You know you have to pay cash on the line in Filene's Basement, whether it's $100 suits or $1000 fur coats—one of the reasons we can sell showpiece fashions off-price.)

Wish we could tell you the names of some of the folks we recognized in this crowd. They're not money, and what's more, they know how to spend it. $201.60—$105.60—$273.60—$177.60—$142.20—not only one or two coats or suits, but business was brisk. Bargains at these prices, you ask? Yes, indeed, for we know the designer told us they cost from $280 to nearly $500 to produce, and some of them had far on them alone worth a small fortune—simply elegant precious fave, Persian lamb, and fox. We may not all be millionaires, but if you have a millionaire's taste, occasionally this unique bargain store offers merchandise that not only sets the criterion for value, but for fashion, too!

German Peace Bid Unlikely

Formal tender of a peace offer from Germany is unlikely and the end of the war can be hastened only by disintegration of the German army and surrender of large units, Louis P. Lochner of the Associated Press wrote today.

His convictions were strengthened after interviewing many newly captured German prisoners, some of whom deserted, and all of whom said they were sick of the war. Their officers are prevented from surrendering, the prisoners told Lochner, because the Gestapo is executing the families of those who quit or desert. Generals surviving the purge that followed the July attempt on Hitler's life are being watched too closely by the Gestapo. And Nazi political leaders have nothing to gain by surrender.

Lochner wrote: "It does not look as though the end of hostilities with Germany could come in the time-honored way of peace feelers followed by the signature of armistice terms."

3d Son In Dorchester Family to Stay in U. S.

In recognition of family sacrifice and contribution to the war effort, PFC Anthony F. Ulackas, sole surviving son of Mrs. Agnes Ulackas of Carson st., Dorchester, will be retained permanently in the United States, the War Department announced today. The soldier's two brothers gave their lives in war service.

A 35-year-old native of Seinraja, Lithuania, PFC Ulackas was inducted into the Army in Boston May 14, 1943.

99 Bulgarian Officials to Die

By Associated Press

Death sentences for treason have been imposed on three former Bulgarian regents, 22 cabinet ministers, nine King's counselors and 66 former members of Parliament by the Bulgarian people's court, the Sofia radio said today in a broadcast reported by the FCC.

An additional 49 deputies were sentenced to prison, 23 for life. The court also has ordered confiscation of the property of all those sentenced.

Veterans' Friend

By JAMES F. MCENANEY

Q—My husband was killed in action. He had a diary and a watch that I wish to have very much. Will these personal effects be returned to me?

E. S. Medford.

A—All available personal effects of a soldier killed in action are sent to Effects Quartermaster, Kansas City, Mo., and from there to the soldier's family. If the diary contained any notations which the base censor would not pass, it could be held until after the war.

Q—My husband has his government insurance made out to his mother. If anything should happen to him, wouldn't it be paid me instead?

A. W., Norfolk Downs.

A—No. If the soldier names his mother as beneficiary of his insurance, it will be paid to her and no other person has any claim on it.

Q—I have lost two sons in this war and have one now in combat overseas. I've been told that he can be transferred back to this country. Where do I write about it?

T. D., South Boston.

A—Write directly to Adjutant General, Munitions Building, Washington, D. C., making request that your son be transferred from combat duty. Give his full name, serial number and certified statement that he is your sole surviving son; also give names and serial numbers of sons killed. Action will be taken immediately if you comply with above.

Q—I am a pre-Pearl Harbor father. How old must I be before considered too old for combat?

L. C., Woonsocket, R. I.

A—There is no particular age as long as you are considered physically fit for combat.

Q—Is a soldier who receives a Blue Discharge eligible to apply for mustering-out pay and also GI Bill benefits?

A. R., Waltham.

A—No, he is not eligible for mustering-out pay because discharge was not under honorable conditions. He is, however, entitled to GI benefits.

Q—While in the Army I bought War Bonds, deducted from my pay. Discharged about a year ago, but never received bonds. What agency handles my problem?

C. B., Brighton.

A—Write War Bond Division, 368 West Adams st., Chicago, Ill.

Q—Receiving disability pension. Would like to know if I include this amount in filing my income tax return?

R. O., Lynn.

A—No. Veterans receiving compensation or pension for disability are exempt from including these payments in returns.

Questions submitted to Veterans' Friend Editor, Boston Evening American, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston 6, Mass., will be answered in this daily column.

4000 Autos Discarded Daily

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—Three years of record-breaking production will be required to fill the public demand for new automobiles, government officials estimated today.

Post-war demand for 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 cars is considered likely.

About 4000 cars daily—nearly 1,500,000 annually—are leaving the highways due to such factors as scarcity of tires, replacement parts and mechanical deterioration, ODT reported.

Hingham Yard Closing Fought

Appeals were sent today to Secretary of the Navy Forrestal and Massachusetts Senators and Congressmen for aid in obtaining additional contracts for the Bethlehem-Hingham shipyard, where the present shipbuilding program will be completed next August.

The appeals were telegraphed to Washington by the Quartermen and Leadingmen's Ass'n as a result of announcement from New York that the Hingham yard would be closed in August.

The telegrams read: "More than 500 supervisors of the Bethlehem-Hingham shipyard appeal for information as to why there seems to be no further contract in sight for the yard."

"We feel this modern yard with complete facilities and 14,000 employees who have broken all production records cannot be discarded while there is yet a ship to be built or any heavy war production to be completed. Would appreciate your advice whether

Solons Assail Using Ships To Carry Paper to France

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2—American soldiers are suffering from cold on the bitter Western Front while precious cargo space that should contain warm clothing or ammunition is being used to ship newspaper to French political publications, Rep. Lyle H. Boren (D.) of Oklahoma declared.

Beven, chairman of a House special committee on newsprint, and Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R.) of Ohio said the State Department had sent them an unsatisfactory reply to their protest against allotment of 5500 tons of American paper for use by French interests.

GRAYSON'S
28 WINTER STREET

The department admitted that nearly 1200 tons of the allocation already has been shipped, and that the remainder is scheduled for delivery this month or next if shipping is available.

"If there is space available for large tonnages of newsprint, it is available for war material far more vital to victory," Boren declared.

"If there is space available for other things than war material, we should ease our mailing restrictions so that people here at home can send more and larger packages to our men overseas.

"The French people, I am sure, want medical supplies and food far more than they want newsprint for periodicals devoted to political propaganda, most of it far to the left, and which, for that matter, see into be getting the paper they want now."

Senate O. K.'s Huge Naval Reserve Boost

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—The Senate approved a bill authorizing an increase from 7200 to 24,000 in the number of students in the Naval ROTC while the war lasts.

After the war, the authorized maximum would be 14,000.

N. End Soldier Dies of Wounds

Word that PFC Libby J. DiStefano, 23, of Charter st., North End, died as a result of wounds received during the Belgium campaign in December, was received from the War Dept. today by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph DiStefano.

Pvt. DiStefano, who had been in the service nearly two years, is the eldest of seven children and was prominently known in the North End section where he sold the Boston American and Record, helping his parents to support the large family.

He was working as a mechanic at a Commonwealth ave. automobile plant when he entered the service.

MULTIPLE RELIEF EASES COLD MISERIES LIKE A DOCTOR'S PRESCRIPTION

Many doctors prescribe a combination of ingredients for relief of cold symptoms. Colds don't show up as a single ailment, but as a complex series of miseries. Groves' Cold Tablets are a combination of eight active medicinal ingredients. Work internally and promptly on all these symptoms: relieve headache, reduce fever, ease body aches, lessen muscular pains, ease nasal stuffiness. Take actively as directed. Last Birthday Fete for Boy, 8

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Feb. 2 (AP)—Little Ronnie Vidalin will have the biggest birthday party of his life tomorrow, but it probably will be his last.

His mother, Mrs. Winifred Vidalin, told newsmen doctors said her son, who is 8 tomorrow, as less than three months to live. He is suffering from a malignancy and one leg already has been amputated in an effort to save him.

Sonoma County Hospital news will serve ice cream and cake on his birthday to all the youngsters in Ronnie's ward.

Hopkins' Plan To Disarm Foes

NEW YORK, Feb. 2 (AP)—Harry L. Hopkins, presidential advisor, believes the only way to prevent Germany and Japan from rearming is by maintenance of a perpetual army of occupation.

Writing in the March issue of the American Magazine, urging compulsory military training after the war, Hopkins said:

"I have no doubt powerful forces in Germany and Japan are preparing even now for their next attempt to conquer us. We will try to keep them impotent, but only a permanent army of occupation would be able to keep them from rearming eventually.

"We must accept a new and tough concept in world affairs, that the earth is not civilized enough to make world-wide disarmament practical for peace-loving nations."

Boston American, Feb. 2—19

Mariners Train Aboard Windjammer

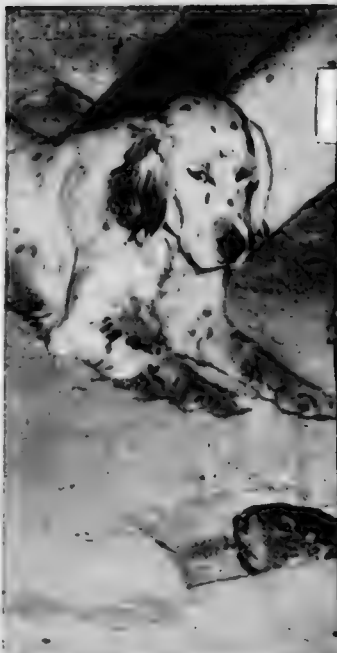

Aloft—High above the decks of the Joseph Conrad, Merchant Marine trainees at St. Petersburg, Fla., struggle with the great white sails of the windjammer used in training the men who will soon be sailing the Liberty ships carrying the vital materials of war to the battle fronts of the world.

Share-the-Lunch—Actor John Hodiak inaugurated a share-the-lunch plan when Actress Gene Tierney started packing her midday meal to eat at the studio. Hodiak put the plan into operation by dipping into the lunchbox Gene packed so daintily . . . to outsmart crowded studio commissaries.

BRIGHT NEW PAGE FOR HISTORY

THE HISTORIANS of tomorrow will rank the rescue of the five hundred and thirteen men of Bataan, Corregidor and Singapore from the Japanese prison camp on Luzon among the most brilliant and daring exploits of all time.

Long after every person living today has died, this story will be universally remembered and told.

For three years—a wretched eternity to them—dauntless men, cut off from families and friends and everything they knew and loved, lived in a literal hell on earth, saw their comrades fall and die, watched their own bodies waste and wither.

For three years a whole nation sorrowed and waited and prayed.

And then, as if guided by God Himself, intrepid American Rangers and Filipino guerrillas inched their way through 25 miles of enemy-held jungle to storm the prison and accomplish the liberation.

It is indeed a story without precedent or equal.

And we choose to believe that the all-kind and merciful Father in Heaven did make possible its writing—in answer to the petitions of millions of Americans who turned to Him in the darkness of Corregidor and never lost faith.

HARDLY HOPEFUL

MR. RUDOLPH F. KING, the registrar of motor vehicles, has announced that only two other States—Vermont and Rhode Island—had a lower highway death rate than Massachusetts during the past year.

There may be satisfaction in this statement for perpetual optimists who find a certain solace in telling themselves that conditions might have been worse, but we see little in it to hearten the rest of the population.

Automobiles killed FOUR HUNDRED AND SEVENTY men, women and children in Massachusetts during 1941—TEN more than during 1943.

In spite of fewer car registrations, restrictions on pleasure driving and constant gasoline famines, WE ARE KILLING MORE MOTORISTS AND PEDESTRIANS.

This utterly needless slaughter will probably last as long as we try to adapt our oxcart highways to the modern automobile.

But even the wide, straight, scientific designed roads scheduled for construction immediately after the war will not give us the complete safety we have a right to demand for ourselves and our children.

We must also scrap the equally out-moded police officers who are too lax and lazy to enforce speed laws and who are neither appalled nor shocked into action by preventable tragedy and sorrow.

Lappling, the scrapping will be easily accomplished. In the armed forces, anxiously awaiting release, are great numbers of conscientious, provenly competent men who can and will make highways safe when they wear police uniforms.

URGENTLY NEEDED

THE INCREASINGLY critical shortage of waste paper has become one of the war's most pressing problems.

Says William E. Edwards, spokesman for a number of mills in the New England area:

"There has been an alarming drop in waste paper salvage recently. I hope we shall be able to work out remedial measures, because we are faced with heavier military demands than at any previous time. The situation is extremely serious."

Best of the remedial measures will be a firm resolution on the part of every American to get out every scrap of waste paper in his home and to donate it immediately to a salvage collector.

HAS BEEN CLAIMED the average bald-headed man is smarter than the average man who still has some hair. Maybe so. But the fact remains there has only been one bald-headed President of the United States. That was John Quincy Adams. Four U. S. Presidents had beards. Who were they? And what three Presidents had mustaches? If you can't answer these two questions like a flash, your old history teacher certainly should be ashamed of you.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS:
Q. What is the best way to sell a short story to a magazine?
A. All I can do is to tell you how I sold my first short story. I put it in an envelope and mailed it to the editor of a weekly magazine. I sent no letter. In a week I received a letter saying my story had been accepted. In two weeks I received a check for $250. It was a short, short story. I wrote it in 40 minutes.
Q. Ever been to Bayonne, N. J.?
A. Been through it but never stopped. When I was a kid we lived on the other side of New York harbor from Bayonne. There was always something exploding over there. Seemed about every week they had a big fire. I hope the situation has improved.

PASSING BY: Ella Logan. Cute comedienne Ella is quite a social figure in the Beverly Hills, Cal., film colony. She is one of the group called "The Top Flighters." This is made up of people who have two swimming pools.

Ed Barrow, Baseball executive, Ed gave Hans Wagner his first professional baseball job. That was in Paterson, N. J., in the nineties. Ed is now 77 years old. Hans is 70. Both are still in the baseball business.

BRIEFLY: "How to tell a married man from a single man. That's easy," writes a Bostonian. "If he wipes his shoes on the doormat before entering the house he is a married man. There is no certain way to tell whether a woman is married or single." ... The Japs continue to state in Tokyo radio broadcasts that they have never lost a war. That claim is strictly bunk. The Koreans defeated the Japs badly in 1594 A. D.

OOMPH GIRL: A Californian states her height as five feet, two inches, her weight as 115 pounds and her age as 53. She sends along a snapshot recently taken. She looks like a 24-year-old "oomph girl," lovely as Linda Darnell. She really must have a good streamlining, and by a utifying system to look like an "oomph girl" at 53.

Linda Darnell

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: "Since I wrote you last," writes Sgt. George Trammell, "I have become a soldier, a husband and a father." (Note: The Sergeant is in a nice spot. He has lots of answers to the question: "What's new with you?") ... One of the leading hair experts of the country informs me he knows a woman of 59 who has not a single gray hair. Her hair is just as brown and beautiful as it was when she was a girl. This woman says the reason she has such wonderful hair is that for a short period each day she stands on her head. Can your wife stand on her head? Can you? I tried to stand on my head a couple of weeks ago and nearly broke my back.

DANGEROUS SITUATION: According to a news item, a saleswoman in a Manhattan shop strained her back seriously trying to get a girdle on a somewhat plump customer. The unfortunate saleswoman had to be taken to a hospital. This happening seems to indicate the girdle situation, due to the shortage of elastic, is more serious than the male population realizes. Perhaps something should be done about the risk saleswomen take in helping large ladies try on girdles. Possibly, signs should be displayed in all shops. For example: "Owing to the acute shortage of help we are obliged to ask customers weighing over 170 pounds not to request our saleswomen to help them on with girdles."

"Headquarters? Can you ask the Commanding General to come here quick? Our Colonel's choking on a fish bone, and you know the regulations against striking a superior officer!"

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1945, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

AMONG THOSE who dislike Henry Wallace there is a tendency to despise the fellow as one who is not too bright and, by himself, is an amiable and harmless bleeding heart who wants to do good but has fallen into the hands of totalitarian schemers, most of whom brought their political purposes with them in the steerage from the slums of Continental Europe.

Westbrook Pegler

This is a dangerous assumption, tending to disarm or lull those believers in the American Republic who thus far have lost every round of the fight on the home front to preserve until the day of their return the liberties entrusted to their care by ten million men and women gone to the war.

For a fact, Wallace does seem vague, prideless and even innocent of personal ambition for power. His submission to the nasty, insult implicit in President Roosevelt's letter nominating him for Jesse Jones' job in the Department of Commerce suggests a noble meekness that would endure much for the opportunity to serve that faceless nonentity described by the prophets of our Nazi-Communism as the common man.

HIS DOCILE acceptance of the betrayal at Chicago when his great friend threw him out because he had political B.Q. and took Harry Truman instead, and his trusting personal campaign for the ticket, on his own, may seem to bespeak admirable humility and devotion.

Against these outwards, however, the fact must be remembered that the power of the American President today is greater than it ever was before in our history and greater than the people ever intended it should be and growing daily. The fact must also be kept in mind that when Wallace has had power in office he has used it ruthlessly in cunning connivance with less subtle enemies of our liberties.

And, finally, we overlook only at our peril the probability that if Wallace should become President in 1948, which is the purpose of Sidney Hillman and all conspirators of the Political Action Committee, he would use that power to the limit and with the cold brutality of dictators.

The mythical Wallace character, which has beguiled the people, is an artificial creation of a small group of Washington journalists, some of them innocent dupes of their own sentimentalism.

WE HAVE in our craft a number of yearning essayists who are forever seeking another Lincoln, and in their quest, overlook Lincoln's many faults including his frequent contempt for law and his unmanly submission to the rule of a viscer in his home even to the extent of keeping his own son safe from war while he was rounding up by force the sons of other mothers to die horribly in battle.

This eagerness pounces on any untidy man with a bang over his eyes, not unlike Hitler's if it comes to that, knee-sprung pants and a clumsy, fumbling public manner, which may be sheer political affectation.

William Jennings Bryan, in his day, enjoyed the benefit of a comparable cult only to reveal his real self in his final years.

How do we know what Wallace would do if he should be chosen President in 1948?

Frankly, we don't know, but it would be a crime against the freedom that the fighters hope to return to assume that a man of his associations and his revealed tendencies would respect those liberties and the conventional vow of Presidents to uphold the Constitution.

HUEY LONG let his forelock curl down over his eyes and harranged his following in the language of the accret-eater but his removal, apparently by his own cunning, was a fortuity that postponed full dictatorship by 10 years, but not necessarily forever.

Wallace may be as humble and inept as he seemed when he stood before the convention in Chicago and actually giggled but even that would be reason enough to resist the creation of a prestige that might win for him the power over the American people, their rights, their homes, their fortunes, their very lives that has been vested in the Presidency under Roosevelt.

It would be wiser, however, to suspect him at all times, to regard his appearance and manners as a masquerade and to judge him by past performances and the company he keeps. Hitler, too, was humble in his early days.

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 2—This coming week William Powell is going to re-sign with M-G-M, but in that new contract is a unique clause. Bill is asking that he be allowed to play the king in "Anna and the King of Siam" for Darryl Zanuck, and of course, Bill will get his wish. When hasn't he had what he wants? And if you've read the book you'll know he's just about right for the part.

You may remember I said Dorothy McGuire was leading the procession to play Anna. That Louis Lighton, the producer, wanted her. I don't believe the suspension she has taken to be with her husband will affect her chances of co-starring with Bill Powell, and this ought to be a grand combination.

William Powell

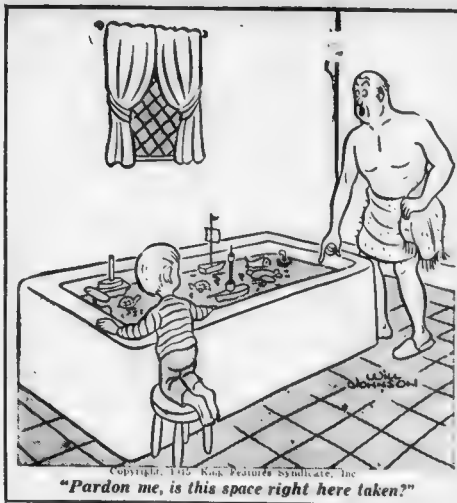

HERE'S A SURPRISE! "The Fountainhead" has been postponed and in its place Mervyn Le Roy will direct the Broadway hit, "Chicken Every Sunday," at Warners. Seems that every day there's a new flash on Mervyn's plans, but there is a good reason for this. He has to be back on the RKO lot July 1 to make "The Robe."

JENNIFER JONES has a house guest and a mighty interesting one. Peggy Knudsen, whom you saw on Broadway if you enjoyed the "Sister Eileen" company, is here on a Warner contract, and she's staying with Jennifer until she gets settled. Peggy has recently separated from her husband, Adrian Samish, radio executive, and as soon as she gets a place to live she'll bring her baby girl here.

BOGEY CERTAINLY shot off his mouth when he confided to that swell reporter, Inez Robb, that he was marrying Lauren Bacall. One day on the set, when I visited him, he said: "Yes, I'm going to marry Betty (Lauren), but you've got to swear you won't tell, because it might spill everything. Mayo might get a divorce if I talk." So I crossed my heart and hoped to die that I wouldn't tell. Then I talked to him again on the long distance phone at Louis Bromfield's farm, in case he might break down and tell other people, and he said: "It's in such bad taste—don't tell anybody until I am free." Apparently when Inez got to him he forgot it was bad taste. Anyway, I hope he hasn't upset the apple cart, for Jerry Giesler, Mayo's lawyer, says: "There are no plans made for a divorce and won't be until it is discussed when Mr. Bogart gets back."

THERE'LL BE NO benefits for Susan Peters. The most shocked person in the world when such a hint was made was Louis B. Mayer, who immediately arranged with Eddie Mannix to have Susan's salary continue. "Why do people say things like that?" asked L. B. "We expect Susie will be back here on the lot and we certainly don't want one of our brightest stars an object of charity. Besides, that wouldn't be necessary even if we didn't help, but we feel she's entitled to her salary and we are giving it to her gladly, and any other help she needs."

I HAD A PEEP at a sequence Vera-Ellen did in "Wonder Man" for Sam Goldwyn. She seems to have everything, that girl. She's wonderfully graceful as a dancer, and she has a very good voice. Sam has had several offers for her, and I am told he will lend her to 20th Century-Fox for a picture. Speaking of Goldwyn, he has just hired Ring Lardner, Jr., to write the adaptation of "Earth and High Heaven," the best seller novel by Gwethalyn Graham. That's the story of the Gentile girl who marries a Jewish boy, and a frank discussion of their troubles.

tells me that he is going to New York in two weeks on a vacation—His first trip there in a long time; Lady Thelma Furness, who is back from New York, dining tête-à-tête with Edmund Lowe. That romance certainly goes on.

We are very proud of our industry. Under the direction of Fred S. Meyer, chairman of the infantile paralysis drive $72,000 was raised. That's way above the quota; George Abbott, the well-known playwright, on the Town House tennis courts nearly every day, taking a workout. Sam and Frances Goldwyn are in Texas again to see Sammy, Jr., who may leave for overseas soon; if George Jessel has his way, Director Irving Cummings will do a dance routine in "The Dolly Sisters." Irving was on Broadway in those days.

FABLE FROM FIFTIES: Fred Finklehoffe and Jerry Lester were holding down a corner table at Toots Shor's the other a. m., talking mostly about Fred's wife, Ella Logan, who has just returned from overseas, and Jerry recalled the time he and Ella were on the same bill at an out-of-town vaudeville house. Immediately after the first show, the theater's manager came backstage for a little talk with Ella about the songs she had sung. "I think you ought to cut two of those numbers and substitute two new ones," he told her.

Ella fixed him with a bequiling Scotch stare. "Back in California," she said, "I have a beautiful home with two swimming pools. I own five expensive fur coats. I have two 16-cylinder cars, and I employ three servants. I give away about $50,000 a year in charity. And do you know why I can afford all this? She paused significantly. "Because I've been picking my own songs for the past 10 years!"

MOVIE BONER: The best Movie Boner of the week is from Ruth Glicker of Brooklyn who says that in the picture "The Falcon In Hollywood," the Falcon attends a horse race and encounters a gangster. The gangster is watching the horses through a pair of binoculars which he lends to the Falcon. The gangster then says, "So long," leaving the binoculars in the possession of the Falcon. Then a young lady sits next to the Falcon, and can't find her binoculars. The Falcon, showing her the gangster's, asks if they belong to her, and she replies in the affirmative. Miss Glicker claims that while the audience was trying to figure out who the murderer was, she was trying to figure out to whom the binoculars belonged. If you see a Movie Boner send it to me.

MARIE MONTEZ may do a radio program called "Fiesta" . . . Columbia previewed "Tonight and Every Night," the Rita Hayworth-Janet Blair musical, and you can put it on your list as one of the best musicals of the season. The surprise of the picture is Janet Blair.

HOLLYWOODANA: Tom Jenk tells about the quickie director who was making love to an actress. In the middle of a kiss he remembered something, said he had to leave and, from force of habit, added, "If I'm not back in five minutes, start without me." But don't get me wrong, I love Hollywood.

Boston After Dark

TWO RECOMMENDATIONS today: One is to attend the new New England Sportsmen's and Boat Show, opening tomorrow at Mechanics Building. . . Sheldon Fairbanks, rarely given to more than a modest appraisal of his own activities, has gone the limit in making this year's show the best of the fascinating series.

THE SECOND recommendation is for discriminating readers who like softness and taste in their dine-and-dance surroundings. . . It concerns Eddie Davis' Rumba Casino of the famous Fox and Hounds Club. . . No more pleasing environment exists, we think, in the best of Boston night clubs than this Rumba Casino. . . The food is superb. . . But everything about the place shoves it into favoritism. . . Not least of the Rumba Casino's attractions—to this meanderer—is its luck of a floor show. . . (Although this is strictly a personal taste apart from a general mood) . . . Wilson Lewis' excellent small band makes up for that, there being no better unit of Local (Musicians' Union) No. 1 in the area. . . The service is cordial and of the best. . . Walter Finn supervises the spot as if it were his own, and it is a tribute to his boss, Mr. Davis (he admits) that he feels and acts that way. . . Clem Locatelli, once a restaurateur of note (on his own) is the maitre'. . . He is as good as the best. . . The atmosphere is cosy, subdued, unaffected and altogether nice. . . Arthur, on the bar which overlooks the intimate little night club from a balcony, is a personality in addition to being a mixologist (modern for bartender) of the first rank.

YES, WE ENJOY the Rumba Casino, and not only because occasionally we are Mr. Davis' personal guest. . . In fact, it occurs to this department that the public is entitled to get the lowdown on that fantastic routine of being "America's guest" which a daily columnist who devotes some space to after-dark activities is (in the public mind) a party too.

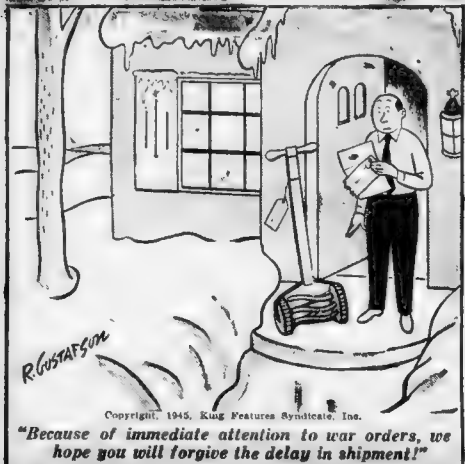

IT IS comparable to the plight of a fellow-worker whose job it is to "cover" baseball. . . To a baseball fan, that job probably represents Utopia on earth, including Boston. . . But Joe Cashman will tell you that the break of his summer-evening is an opportunity to enjoy an afternoon away from the ball park. . . And so with the few members of our profession whose job it is to prowls the night-life district in search of news, chatter, adventure, and talent (the last-named item, being particularly scarce). . . The truth is, folks, that the Messrs. Clarke, Dineen, Hamilton, Hughes, Holland, et al., are welcome—and sincerely—in most of the glitter-spots in town, and if they are able to accept the hospitality of the house—so much the better. . . (The Red Sox don't make Mr. Cashman pay to watch the Cronin-men, either).

BUT, oh! and ah! How nice it is to pass an evening in the country! . . . So-oo! As for Mr. Davis' Fox and Hounds, as for Mr. Jack Larkin's wonderful Red Coach Grill, as for Mr. Redstone's soothing Town House, famous Mayfair or thrilling Latin Quarter, as for Mr. Tom Maren's Shangri-la, as for the Messrs. Schneider's attractive Vienna Room and Cave, as for John Costello's entrancing Music Box, as for the low-lighted, alluring, entertaining Myles Standish Cocktail Lounge, as for Mr. Ed Wyner's Ritz Bar, as for the half-dozen other wonderland oases in the midst of the heart of our great city—you, dear friend, can have them all six nights a week in swap for a comfortable chair near your cheery fireplace in the living-room of your snow-bound villa in whichever Boston suburb you reside. (Or in Louisburg sq., either, for that matter.)

THEREFORE—please—do not be too envious! . . . Boston truly has wondrous night spots, more than any city its size in world, possibly.

NEVERTHELESS, my friends, the current anthem of the jitters is "One Meat Ball" . . . It takes a lot of good after-dark enjoyment to atone for listening to that—any place, anywhere!

Another serviceman freed was AMM 1c Carl Silverman of Wareham, a Boston native who served in the Army during the first World War. His brother Joseph, of Parkwood Beach, Wareham, said he had not heard from Carl since before Pearl Harbor. The freed prisoner has a nephew, Dr. Harry Silverman, in Revere.

Learning that her nephew, Lt. Raymond W. Bliss, Jr., had been freed from the torturous internment camp, Mrs. Geraldine B. Taylor of River st., Billerica, said she was thrilled beyond words. She said the report of the rescue was the most dramatic story of the war.

Lt. Bliss' father is Brig. Gen. Raymond W. Bliss, assistant surgeon general at Washington. Lt. Bliss is a native of Chelsea, and a graduate of Chelsea High School and Tufts Medical School. Lt. Bliss was a student at MIT in 1931, but transferred to the University of Arizona where he was graduated.

News of the rescue of Pvt. Joseph B. Threlkelt, 26, a prisoner since the fall of Bataan, brought joy to relatives in Lawrence. His mother, Emma, who lives in Oak st., said he received a letter from Joseph only three weeks ago, asking for pictures of relatives and friends.

A native of Canada, he came to Lawrence in 1934 and was a filing station attendant and student pharmacist before enlisting in August, 1940, and being assigned to the Far East.

Close-cropped sleeves, reed slim lines gentled by slight draping, long narrow necklines and a mere touch of decor... these are signs of just-so-many weeks until Spring.

Saving Sugar

By MARTHA LEE

THERE ARE WAYS and ways of conserving our precious sugar supply, and we're going to tell you of some of them.

One simple and effective way to save sugar is to put a smaller spoon in the sugar bowl. Automatically, the family will take less.

Other ways to save sugar are to pour maple syrup on grapefruit, to sweeten hot cereal with raisins, to use honey in frostings, and to put jelly between the layers of cake.

Then there are delicious desserts which are made with crackers, graham crackers, for instance. These crackers have a natural sweetness that, with a dash of fruit, makes them appetizing as a dessert. When crushed and used as a pie crust or in cake or pudding, they help to enrich the dessert with the result that less sugar is needed.

Graham Cracker Prune Betty is typical of the wholesome desserts that can be made from graham crackers, and calls for only $\frac{1}{4}$ cup of sugar.

GRAHAM CRACKER PRUNE BETTY

- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup cooked prunes
- $\frac{1}{2}$ apples, pared and sliced
- 2 cups graham cracker crumbs
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar
- 3 tsp. margarine
- 3 tsp. prune juice

Pit prunes and cut in pieces. Arrange 1-3 of the crumbs in the bottom of baking dish. Cover with half of the prunes, apple slices, sugar, margarine and cinnamon. Add half of the remaining crumbs and the remaining prunes, apple slices, sugar, margarine and cinnamon. Cover with crumbs and add prune juice. Cover and bake at 375 deg. F. for 45 minutes.

Maple Crumb Pie has a pastry crust and an unusual filling of nuts, raisins, eggs, and graham cracker crumbs, with maple syrup for the additional sweetening agent.

MAPLE CRUMB PIE

- 1 unbaked pie shell
- 1 tsp. egg white
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup raisins
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup pecan meats
- 2 egg yolks, beaten
- 1 cup maple syrup
- 2-3 cup graham cracker crumbs
- 3 tsp. flour
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 tsp. nutmeg
- $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. ginger
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup margarine, melted

Brush pastry with egg white and line with raisins and pecans. Blend egg yolks and maple syrup and pour over. Mix graham cracker crumbs, flour and spices and add margarine. Sprinkle mixture over top of pie. Bake 30 minutes at 350 deg. F.

And here's a recipe that is entirely pain-free.

GRAHAM ICEBOX CAKE

- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup nut meats
- $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. graham cracker crumbs
- $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. dates
- $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. marshmallows
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup coffee cream

Roll crackers into fine crumbs. Cut marshmallows up fine with scissors and roll them in crumbs. Cut dates and nuts and mix with marshmallows and cracker crumbs. Add cream to mixture and roll into loaf. (If mixture seems dry, add more cream.) Wrap loaf in waxed paper and place in icebox for 24 hours. Makes 8 servings.

GRAHAM CRACKER PASTRY

- 20 graham crackers
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup butter or margarine
- 1 tsp. water

Roll crackers very fine, stir in sugar and gradually add to softened butter, mixing thoroughly; stir in water. Press over bottom and sides of pie plate, and bake in moderately slow oven (325 deg. F.) about 10 minutes. Cool before adding cooked filling; use for cream filling, prepared chocolate filling, etc. Makes pastry for one 9-inch pie.

Here's the Champagne of Fragrances

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

WILL YOU BE MY VALENTINE? If you're 6 or 60... there's meaning to that madness... a madness which makes the world go round... which keeps us on our toes... which gives spirit and color to the most prosaic daily routine. Without it... we women would be like nothing... superannuated gals without an incentive to be lovely and do lovely things.

If you'd steal a march on Sir Cupid himself... if you'd transform your cheery little self into an eye-catching Valentine... a queen for any king... try an enchanting and jasmine-scented perfume that is the reincarnation of starry-eyed dreams and wishes.

Of course the beau-catching season is in full swing. The special day is tip-toeing up. Your Big Moment may not be at home to celebrate Valentine's Day with you... but the very thought of him should send you whirling into the clouds. Perhaps he'll send you his own special remembrance... or maybe he'll write a friend or relative to pick up a little something befitting the fond memory of your happy hours together.

If he does... then enhance the spirit with a beau-catching perfume of romance... a perfume that is created by one of the finest perfume houses in the country... a deluxe scent that is the champagne of fragrance.

NO AGE LIMIT

Frilly, lacy valentines which usually accompany a choice gift... are like never-miss darts that sky-rocket our feelings. They put that expectant gleam in our eyes... that look of contentment in our smiles... that charming radiance that despite all... life isn't so bad at that. And, whether they whisper of our first ecstatic crush... or the great light of our life... at the sight of those beguiling red-satin sentimental whimsies... our hearts go flip-flop. Eternal youth!

Since life is what we make it... let's make it beautiful and let's make ourselves as utterly feminine as we know how. This divine perfume will help the routine more than you suspect.

For the name of this beau-catching perfume, phone the Boston Dept. of Liberty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Short, Furred Coat

By BETTINA BEDWELL

VINCENT COPPOLA, a designer who has one of the big names of the designing world for coats and suits, is presenting a beauty of a coat for early Spring.

This is the short, furred coat, made of pastel wool and trimmed with the fur dyed to match the wool. These coats have a fabulous air about them which you more often connect with ermine or sable. The fur is fox, and it takes the pastel color of the coat fabric with complete beauty.

Miss Dulin has sketched one of these coats for you. This one is made of pastel blue basket weave fine wool, and the luxurious fox collar is the same identical shade, which tends toward hyacinth. The coat is wrapped over at the front and has set-in vertical pockets and loose sleeves. A black skirt is worn with the wrap.

AS PRETTY AS A VALENTINE... and as feminine as the heart which reels with the ecstatic spirit of the day is Universal Filmstress June Vincent... whose fragile, lovely beauty reminds us of a perfume that is ideal for a Valentine remembrance... and to make a sentimental whimsy of the cheerful little eyelid you wear it.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Thursday—At 12:30 today I attended a luncheon of the Washington Junior Board of Commerce, and at 2:30 I go to the celebration held by the forestry service to commemorate their 40th anniversary.

When we think what the forestry service has accomplished in the last 40 years, we should all be celebrating, because their work is helping to preserve one of our great national assets. We do not begin to reforest sufficiently anywhere in our country, but year by year we are learning more about trees, their care and their value, and eventually we may discover that each one of us owning any land has a responsibility to the nation to keep some of it in trees.

I MENTIONED YESTERDAY the Joads of New York. Among these migratory workers, the group which interests me most is, of course, the children. There are just a few facts about them which I think the general public should realize, because they can be duplicated in practically every state where migratory workers are used in rural areas.

"Most children over six are pickers as well as their parents," says the Consumers' League report, "and spend long hours in the fields—rarely less than 10, not infrequently 12 and occasionally 13 or 14 hours a day."

We are concerned about child labor, I am told, but apparently not about child pay, for the report continues: "The young children are not listed on the payroll, since payment is usually on a piecework basis. The more they can pick, the greater the family income will be."

"At one New York camp," the report also states, "sixty school-age children were working in the field on school days long after the school term had begun. Little or no effort seems to be made in most local communities to enforce school attendance laws for these migrant children."

IN OTHER WORDS, we are bringing up the illiterates of the future. The living conditions are very undesirable, sanitation is poor, medical care very difficult to obtain.

GRAY IS ONE of spring's spotlight colors... and this gray flagstone flannel topcoat and matching classic suit is one of the top eye-catching numbers for the new season. Izod of London designed the smart topper that it may be worn cinched into a slender waistline with its black calf belt... or swagging free. Either way it is chic.—R. M.

The unique experience of conducting a Christmas Eve service while flying over the Holy Land befell Maj. John P. Fitzsimmons, former Belmont Congregational Church pastor and first staff chaplain to Maj. Gen. Claire W. Chennault, commanding the 14th AAF in China. While the transport plane en route to Iran was winging its way over Palestine at 12,000 feet, Chaplain Fitzsimmons conducted the service for the 24 Army officers and men aboard. His home is in North Easton.

George W. Wood, port air officer in the Transportation Corps and veteran of the invasions of France, has been promoted from lieutenant to captain, according to word received by his wife, Mrs. Helen V. Wood of Rogers Park ave., Brighton.

After seeing combat action with the infantry of the Fifth Army in Italy, Pvt. Robert E. McKenna, son of Mrs. E. L. McKenna of Walter st., Roslindale, is now at headquarters of the MAAF Engineer Command. He wears the Purple Heart, Combat Infantry, Man's Badge and two battle stars after 10 months duty in North Africa and Italy.

Sgt. John B. Ross, 26, of Brookside rd., Brighton, member of a bomber group of the 15th AAF in Italy, has recently completed an armament course and is now an armorer gunner on a B-24 Liberator bomber. He is a graduate of English High School and enlisted Jan. 25, 1944.

to bed. They yelled, "We are Yanks! Get the hell to the main gate on the double!"

Other Rangers darted about picking up stretcher cases on their backs and dashing through the compound across the road into the field and racing back for more.

Dove and his men relayed them across the field as fast as they could go into the thickets.

The best the Japs could do was to throw a couple of mortars from a nearby emplacement into the compound. These killed one scout and wounded a medical officer. Two others were hit by Jap machine gun and rifle bullets.

The withdrawal was as sudden as the attack. But before it had gone far a heavy concentration of Japs from the north attacked.

The guerrillas let them come close and then fired, piling up Japanese in heaps. The first wave of Jap infantry was followed by tanks. The guerrillas had no weapons with which to meet them.

They were pinned down but killed nearly 300 Japs at a loss of 23 guerrillas killed before withdrawing.

This Japanese force then tried to intercept the fugitives. But the gallant stand of the guerrillas had given the Rangers enough of a start. Leading and carrying their charges they reached a road two miles away where Carabao and cars with native drivers awaited. The stealthy night trek along the road with overcrowded carts was eased as other cars and animals were acquired at small towns along the way.

The worst time of all for Col Mucci was a one-mile stretch of the Rizal road. Mucci knew there were several thousand Jap soldiers only a short distance away. But the caravan got over this risky leg of retreat without detection and at dawn reached Sital where they were met by a motorized party.

At the end of the journey, Rangers and Filipinos were guiding 51 carabao and carts and helping other prisoners as best they could.

Mucci strode up and down the column all night spurring it on with "Ad right men, just three kilometers more, just three more!"

At length the prisoners themselves joked when they saw the colonel.

"Here comes three kilos more!" they said affectionately.

Fried Snake Tops Jap Prison Fare

NEW YORK, Feb. 2—Even python meat, fried in brushless shaving cream, can be palatable dish if you have put up with Jap prison camp diet for two and one-half years, S-Sgt. Donald I. McPherson would have you know.

McPherson is one of 12 repatriated soldiers assigned to tour the country and give an account of conditions in enemy prison camps. He told 9000 persons at a next-of-kin meeting here he and other Americans had been hungry enough to eat python—and like it. "It's very good meat," he said. "But first you have to find the python. Likely you beat him to death in a rice paddy where the Japs have you at work. Then, as the Nips haven't supplied you with any fats, you fry him in brushless shaving cream, which you get in packages from the Red Cross. Serve plain."

LOOKING AHEAD to another successful year the Boston Morning Musicales committee, considered by musical experts to have the finest concert course in the United States, had a pre-spring luncheon yesterday to announce artists for their 18th season.

Mrs. Alan T. Fuller was hostess to the committee, some 100 strong, at her beautiful mansion on Beacon st., which is such a pleasure to visit. The business of the day was almost forgotten in the enchantment of the world famous paintings which adorn the walls, the art treasures which the Fullers have collected the world over and the sun-drenched music room where sherry was served. This room is a feast for the eyes with its pale green walls, twin fireplaces, delicately designed sofas and chairs, upholstered in pastel tapestries, silky oriental rugs and huge ivory grand piano on which was a vase of peach snapdragon.

Mrs. Robert Henderson

Mrs. Fuller, former First Lady of the Bay State and one of Boston's most gracious hostesses, received in a crimson wool dress with a corsage of snowy white orchids. Her daughters, Mrs. George Bottomley and Mrs. Robert Henderson, helped serve the buffet luncheon in the flower-decked dining room overlooking the Charles River.

Of great interest to Boston music lovers is news that Ruth Posselt, famous American violinist, native of Boston and wife of

Fullers Entertain

Richard Burgin, concertmaster of the Boston Symphony, will be one of next year's artists. Also Patricia Munsell, the 19-year-old coloratura soprano of the Metropolitan Opera. She will open the series Nov. 14.

New committee members welcomed yesterday were Mrs. Frank Cadwallader of Boston, Mrs. Godfrey Robinson of Franklin, Mrs. C. Sidney Burwell of Brookline and Mrs. Edward MacNichol, Jr., of Hamilton. Mrs. John W. Myers and Mrs. H. Parker Whittington are co-chairmen of the concerts, which benefit the Boston School of Occupational Therapy.

LONDON, Feb. 2 (AP)—Germany is a war weary nation with a steadily declining morale, said repatriated British soldiers, who arrived at Liverpool last night aboard the Red Cross ship Letitia.

But the German people still are ruled with iron discipline and are terrified to do anything not in accordance with Nazi fanaticism, said Maj. Miles Reid, who was captured by the Germans in Greece in 1941.

Sgt. Maj. F. Jordan said the Germans realize they are "on the wrong side of the fence again."

Clergy Attends Candlemas Rites

Members of the clergy of the Boston archdiocese were scheduled to attend a special holy hour service in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross at 3:30 p. m. today as one of the observances of the Feast of the Purification of the Virgin Mary, Candlemas Day.

The feast day was celebrated at all Catholic churches with special services at which candles, used on altars and in the homes of the faithful during the year, were blessed.

The Feast of St. Blaise will be celebrated in all Catholic churches tomorrow when throats of the faithful will be blessed after morning masses and, at most churches, again in the afternoon and evening.

For EXTRA ENERGY Eat Energy-charged WONDER BREAD

Thanks to a revolutionary new baking method, you can now get bread with no big holes that leak sandwich fillings on shirts or dresses. Compare a slice from the middle of the loaf of new Wonder Bread with ordinary bread—see the amazing difference!

Get Extra Energy

Energy comes only from the food you eat. Thus, to get more energy — eat more energy food. Nature gets energy out of food with the help of Vitamins B₁ and Iron.

This is how: The two vitamins help to oxidize food in the cells; and the iron in your blood brings oxygen to the cells.

Study the chart. Then eat extra slices of energy-charged Wonder

Bread every day to get extra energy.

Get Vitamins, Iron

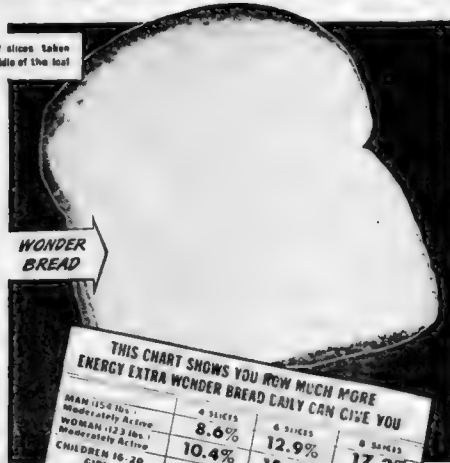

Ask for Wonder Bread by name because it contains Vitamins B₁ and B₂ and Iron necessary to help Nature properly transform it into energy for your body.

Remember—only Wonder Bread is sold under its famous $1,000 Vitamin B₁ guarantee.

Doubly Fresh

In addition, energy-charged Wonder Bread is doubly fresh—fresh when you buy it, fresh when you eat it. Because Wonder Bread is slow-baked—13% longer than many ordinary kinds for lasting freshness.

Get energy-charged Wonder Bread fresh from your grocer today. CONTINENTAL BAKING CO., INC.

THIS CHART SHOWS YOU HOW MUCH MORE ENERGY EXTRA WONDER BREAD DAILY CAN GIVE YOU

documentaries is

Photographed by Navy lensmen

The M & P twin theaters' dual screen bill this week represents inspired teaming, by the way. "Sunday Dinner for a Soldier," also a 20th Century-Fox release, is the folkly story of a likeable, impenious family and a shanghaied GI. It has a warmth and genuineness that merit its being companioned with the all-wool and a yard-wide Navy documentary.

To see it is to get some measure of the magnitude of our Navy, the superhuman skill and superhuman valor of the men who make it. First introduction to the great ship is when a full complement of planes is being flown on to her

It was in the Marianas that our side discovered and virtually exterminated the Imperial Japanese battle fleet, 360 Jap planes and 17 Jap warships having been sunk. This sequence is easily the stand-out in a picture that is one thrilling record after another of our Navy's supremacy.

Earlier in the unreeling, the Fighting Lady seems doomed when a group of Jap planes makes her their target... and then your heart returns to its natural habitat when our gallant carrier reverses the charges.

In place of the usual band-show
this week at the BKO Boston

This means a line of girls and a bunch of vaudeville numbers. As of yore, the girls are mostly long-stemmed beauties wearing plumes and not much else—and the variety artists are clever and amusing, each in their way.

Dave and June Hacker, also familiar in these unit shows, again burlesque the adagio style of dancing. They also kid themselves and the audience, too.

Highest point of hilarity is when the Wiere boys join the girls in a dance ensemble.

On the K-B screen the new film is "Fadie Was a Lady," with Joe Besser and Ann Miller.

Thomas Mitchell's blandly purposeful efforts to drive Merle Oberon insane and Franchot Tone's subtle scheming

In the brisk black-and-white of newsprint and away from the danger and fearsome bayou country United Artists' research department have reconstructed for the Mitchell-Oberon-Tone co-starrer, "Dark Waters," the foregoing must seem a gross exaggeration of facts.

Tone, as a young country doctor, is the only one to whom she can turn, she finds, upon discovering accidentally that the married couple in the house are not her uncle and aunt.

Miss Oberon gives a brilliant portrayal of a young heiress who comes to stay at the Louisiana plantation of an uncle and aunt she has never seen. She is suffering from the shock of a torpedoing, in which her parents were lost, escaping from the Japs on Batavia

"Dark Waters" . . . definitely not for sissies . . . is strong, dank and frightsome fare. P. D.

Girls' Pay Raise Submitted in WLB

If the WLB approves the agreement of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. to raise the salaries of telephone operators, it will mean $18.00 weekly to 12,000 operators in five of the New England States.

Miss Anna R. Hayes, president of the N. E. Federation of Telephone Operators, announced that the demand for a $4 increase to all operators has been met by the company following a meeting with representatives of their organization.

Boston Also Has Its Death or Glory Gang

By AUSTEN LAKE

I AM QUICK TO ADMIT THIS is an opium dream! But supposin' Boston was buzz-bombed, as barnacled old Jonas Ingram, the living replica of a Gilbert and Sullivan opera admiral, still insists is possible. Let's imagine, just in theory, that a flock of bomb-bearing Nazi sub-sea boats sneaked through our coast defenses launched their aerial torpedoes at our town. N'suppos'n some of these fized down like oversized seltzer bottles and buried their ugly snouts in—O, say Boston Common! And didn't explode.

Austen Lake

That happened frequently in London during the epidemic of V-Is and "flying telegraph poles." Some just plopped down with a big kerplunk! and didn't go off—UXBs they called 'em! They just lay in the ground as constant, ever-present menaces and unless immediately "deactivated" might blast the neighborhood into talcum powder—in 20 minutes, or next day or a week later! So, long ago, the British created the RBS (Rendering Bombs Safe) squad, a death-contemptuous gang of whose original 500 only 18 are still alive. An RBS man never made the same mistake twice, as was the case with Captain Johnny Pritchard!

So it might soothe some of our more fidgety Boston citizens to know that we also have an RBS squad. Prepared to deal with UXBs—although the subject for some reason is pretty hush-hush, due to Army fondness for making mysteries. And this is what would happen if a buzz-bomb hit but didn't explode in the Boston locality.

The "Death of Glory" Boys?

THE NEAREST AIR RAID WARDEN would rope the area off and notify Lt. Julius Pomeroy, the BDO (bomb disposal officer), at 808 Commonwealth. And Julius would set in motion his BRAs (bomb reconnaissance agents), which is a group of anonymous soldiers who study the mechanical gizzards of late German bomb styles and know how to tinker with their intestines.

So off they rush to the spot, and brother, if they move like London's RBSs, to go like bats out of a bonfire. During London's buzz-bomb nights, which until lately was every night, it was a common sight to see cars with red fenders and headlights glaring in defiance of the black out rules go careening and yowling through the streets. "There go the death or glory boys" people would say.

Muzzled as he is Lt. Pomeroy won't see what occurs when his crew arrives at the spot where the make believe UXB is buried. He just explains, "Well, we deactivate it," neglecting to add that it might go off while they monkey with its giblets. But first of course, the boys dig. Though not like a sewer gang swing picks and shovels with he-man muscularity. But delicately, gently like archologists handling garden towels, whisk brooms and featherdusters. Any little jar might set off the fulminating fluid or complete the electric contact current. In which case the crew becomes so much soap-bubble mist.

So I don't know how Lt. Pomeroy might do it. But I can tell you how Capt. Johnny Pritchard of the Royal Engineers did it in London before he joined his vanished mates with an ailment known as "total obliteration." Johnny always worked alone on any UXB-bomb. He had a telephone set strapped on his chest and dictated to a distant headquarters stenographer as he went along, step by step, unscrewing this gadget and unwinding this wire. This was because—and this will kill you, as it later did Johnny—if the bomb blew him into eternity the RBS would have an exact record of what he was doing wrong at the moment he went to oblivion, which eventually he did.

Johnny had a most macabre kind of humor, with a laugh like the hiss of a bicycle pump. (Chu-chu-chu.) He gurgled this glee as he told me he was working on a big, bodkin-bellied bomb which had landed on the outskirts of London. And how everything had gone wrong. The color of the internal wiring was changed. Crews and bolts were out of normal position.

He Learned His Trade From "Satan"

SO HE SAT IN THE DESOLATION of a ruined building and tinkered and cursed over his telephone until suddenly he heard a noise like the internal murmur of a man with indigestion. Johnny didn't wait! He took off at top speed for the shelter he had picked out in advance—a nice, juicy cellar. And when the terrific explosion came he was sealed under tons of debris and lay there like a fanned anchovy until rescue squads dug him out. That kind of work!

And he convulsed with tear-streaming mirth as he told how he had once manipulated the metal trickies inside a bomb-nose no bigger than the neck of a milk bottle when something clamped on his fingers like the bite of a snapping turtle. And he realized that nothing but the meat and bones of his fingers kept apart the two contact points which, if joined, would complete the electric current and blow him to hamburger. So he held on till he could wedge them apart gingerly with a wooden match box. Such cute little jokers!

Johnny would go into spasms of gaiety over his early, awkward apprenticeship, like the time he was sent to emasculate a 2000-pound, 13-foot "satan," the original grand daddy of all demolition bombs which had fallen (UXB) close to St. Paul's Cathedral. As a blissfully ignorant novice at the job, he dug down to the lateral (fins of the monster, hooped a length of steel cable around them, hitched the other end to his truck and literally yanked the one ton capsule of TNT—enough to blast St. Paul's into breakfast food, bodily out of its hole. Johnny regarded it as a hilarious joke that it didn't go off. So he learned about UXBs from there.

Thus pioneer deactivators like Johnny Pritchard gave their lives that such U. S. suicide squads as Lt. Pomeroy might learn to live. So far they haven't had any buzz-bombs to test their learning and we hope they won't. But it's nice to know that Boston has its own crew of kids willing to take the stupendous risk and teeter precariously between public service and personal disintegration. Boston's own "Death or Glory" gang!

Great Ice Derby Sunday

PREPAREDNESS—The skating Backman youngsters of Wilmington, entered in the Silver Skates Derby Sunday afternoon at the Boston Garden, took down blade edge seeking possible nicks. Left to right, Carl, 11; Knute, 9; Janet, 10, and Leon 8. They're after high honors in the annual ice classic.

A great winter sports spectacle returns to New England when the tenth annual Silver Skates Derby is staged at the Garden on Sunday afternoon starting at 12:30. With close to 500 entries for the thrilling race program, sparkling figure skating exhibitions, and a brilliant band providing the music, a capacity throng of 13,500 is expected.

Despite a brisk advance sale of tickets at the bargain prices of 35 cents, 50 cents and one dollar, there still were plenty of seats on sale today at the Garden. Arena and James W. Brine's on Summer st. Fans are urged to get tickets at once, however, and avoid disappointment.

Magnates Weigh Majors' '45 Hopes

NE WYORK, Feb. 2 (AP)—Baseball faces a momentous week-end—perhaps the most important of the last 24 years—with major league club owners gathered here for a two-day session that may decide whether wartime manpower demands are sufficiently drastic to warrant suspension of play for the forthcoming season.

Developments in the last two months have fluctuated the baseball fever chart to such an extent that National League president Ford Frick's report on his conference with national selective service director Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey 10 days ago may be an important factor in the owners' decision whether to play this year.

Miss O'Meara arrived in Boston today so that she could arrange two practice sessions on the Garden ice before her grand showing Sunday.

Jane Weiss of Walpole, a member of the Commonwealth Skating Club, will be entertaining Derby followers for the fourth straight year. Other Commonwealth skaters will include Rosemary Clement, Wiffy Conway, Kay Lindstrom, Marion Murphy and Justin Smith.

In addition to these brilliant youngsters, pretty Faris Nourse, 16-year-old New York city girl, a portage of Edi Scholdan, will also appear.

Outdoor Life Featured At Sportsmen's Show

By JACK CONWAY

THE NEW ENGLAND Sportsmen's show, which will open at Mechanics Building tomorrow afternoon and continue through Feb. 11, should give a little mental lift to residents of this section of the country who are a bit weary combating one of the most severe winters we have ever had. Sheldon Fairbanks' fine offering is always a sign of spring, even though we shall have many snow storms and our share of blizzards before the robins are hopping around on our front lawn in Jamaica Plain.

Floyd Bell, who is the ballyhoo man for the Sportsmen's show, tells me that the event will feature outdoor life in New England as well as numerous competitions between guides, hunters and fishermen.

Jeanne Laupheimer, diving and swimming champion, and her water ballet will appear in the huge pool in the main hall. Members of the water ballet have exceptional swimming and diving ability as well as beauty. Larry Griswold, comedy diver, will furnish his share of laughs.

"Minnie," the bear, and "Sharkey," the seal, will perform, while log rolling and canoe tilting will be added attractions.

In wartime it is fitting that the Red Cross should have a display of life saving, and the armed forces have exhibits which have been brought back from all of the war areas.

Interest in Outdoors

THERE HAS been growing interest in outdoor sports in recent years. This is indicated by the millions of hunting and fishing licenses that are issued each year.

The Sportsmen's show always arranges its dates so that it is in full swing at a time when people have tired of the winter and are eagerly looking forward to getting outdoors.

Silver Skates Derby

LIKE THOUSANDS of other people, I shall attend the Silver Skates Derby at the Garden on Sunday afternoon. I have always considered this one of the finest ice shows offered in the East, will find 500 youthful skaters seeking honors in speed competition and some of the best of the figure skaters giving exhibitions.

Miss Eleanor O'Meara, Canadian figure skating champion who will give an exhibition, is the best in the world. Even great stars like Sonja Henie, Evelyn Chandler, Dona Atwood and Hazel Franklin could not defeat Miss O'Meara in competition. In addition to her amazing skating ability, Miss O'Meara has color and sparkle and appeals to devotees of ice carnivals.

Edi Scholdan will have members of the Commonwealth Skating Club give exhibitions. The figure skaters who will be certain are Jane Weiss, Kay Lindstrom, Rosemary Clement, Marion Murphy, Willy Conway and Justin Smith.

Miss Faris Nourse, of New York, also a pupil of Edi Scholdan's, will also give an exhibition.

Ryder Takes 6 To Millrose Meet

By HUCK FINNEGAN

Retirement of Gil Dodds from the track scene not only deprived the indoor campaign of its No. 1 miler but left the Boston Athletic Ass'n without a representative in the Millrose games for the first time since Jack Ryder took over the coaching reins in 1912.

Tomorrow Ryder will accompany six athletes to the famous New York games but they're all Boston College boys. Art Collins will run the dash, and Herb McKenley will run unopposed in the special 600. The mile relay will be composed of Tom Carney, Elias Weir, Paul McGillicuddy and Abe King.

Other colleges in the area sending representatives are Tufts and Tech. The latter, coached by Oscar Hedlund, will send a mile team composed of Warren Chapman, Royce Crammin, John Seirre and Charlie Goldie. It is a strong quartet, some 10 seconds faster than the BC four which must compete without McKenley.

Tufts, 104-A mile relay champions in '44, finds its strength in the two-mile relay this winter and will start a quartet of Parkman Homans, Dick Porter, Duncan Blanchard and George Kennedy which may rank with the East's top fours before the intercollegiate.

Tufts also will send hurdler Alan Wolozin, who has drawn Ed Dugger in his heat, and sprinter Ed Cosgrove, winner of the 100 in the battle of the Coral sea in '42, now a freshman V-12 at the Medford institution.

HARVARD AWAITS BAA MEET

Harvard will not be represented at Millrose but Jaakko Mikkola hopes to have both mile and two-mile relays in the BAA games next week. Entries of the Hume twins in the BAA meet may mean that Michigan will be the team to beat in the two-mile relay this winter, as it was last year.

Carl Parsons, fleet quarter-miler from Latin School, will enter Boston College Monday. He's been training at the YMCA and will step into the BC mile team at the BAA games. There is a possibility that McKenley's ineligibility will be lifted before the BAA meet. In that case BC could start an all-colored relay of Collins, King, Parsons and McKenley. Tufts has a dual meet scheduled with Brown tomorrow, and Ray Southwick will remain at home to compete in dash and 300.

Rematch GBI Sixes

By MIKE GILLOOLY

It seems that there were quite a few fans at the school-boy hockey games two weeks ago who couldn't believe the final results, so tomorrow afternoon the Greater Boston Hockey League will oblige by re-matching the eight teams in the circuit in the first round of playoffs on the same frozen surface at the usual time.

This series will send the school-boys into their 15-game weekend program, with only the N.E.A.A.U. track meet at the Marshfield gymnasium, Malden, running an competition.

The first two games on the program at the North Station sports palace will be stealing the spotlight with the first division sixes battling it out. These will pit Stoneham vs. Newton and the opener and Medford vs. Rudge.

Tech in the nightcap of the opening twin bill. The consolation tilts will pair Melrose against Belmont and Arlington against Cambridge Latin.

The Cambridge club, an early-season disappointment, has finally hit its stride. Dick Kelly, Len Gagnon and Dick Briand offer one of the smoothest front lines in the loop. The Messuri brothers, Augie and Pete, at defense berths, and Ray Picard in the strings, complete Coach Bill Mahoney's classy Technicians who are eyeing the top slot in the standings.
